DC/CH RICHARD M Reference is made to George Sokolsky's call to me 5-24-62 reflecting that Arnold Forster had claimed that the Director had told former Vice President Nixon he endorsed the activities of Dr. Frederick C. Schwarz and the Christian Anticommunist Crusade. After talking with Sokolsky, I telephonically contacted Forster and told him I was not aware of the identity of his source but that I wanted him to know that this claim was absolutely false. I told him the Director did not endorse any individual or organization; particularly Dr. Schwarz or his outfit.

Forster claimed that he actually told Sokolsky was that he had heard a rumor to the effect that the Director had told former Vice President Nixon that, "he had nothing against Schwarz!" I told Forster this also was false and it would be appreciated if he would check with me prior to repeating such obviously patent falsehoods. Forster stated he did not mean to put us in the middle.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I did not want to write to you about "Masters of Deceit" until after I had read it carefully and thoroughly. I have done this.

May I say that it is a magnificent document which once again should make all Americans proud of their wisdom in placing and keeping you in a most strategic position in American life.

My heartiest congratulations, best wishes and gratitude.

Sincerely,

Fort Probe Held Biased

Anti-Semitism Is Seen Behind Charges at Monmouth

Arnold Forster, chief counsel for the Anti-Defamation League, charged last night that "rampant anti-Semitism" was behind the accusations made against employees at Fort Monmouth in the last few months.

Forster said that the league had made a thorough investigation of the charges and had made a report to Army Secretary Stevens concerning "a person with a strategic position at the fort in respect to the charges."

Forster spoke before 300 persons at the annual William M. Untermann memorial dinner of the William M. Untermann Lodge of B'nai Brith, the national organization with which the league is affiliated. The dinner was at Essex House.

None Used Shield

Forster said that not one of the 35 persons investigated at the fort had refused to answer any questions nor had invoked the Fifth Amendment. He said that 33 of the 35 were Jews. He pointed out that as fast as investigations have been completed on particular individuals they have all thus far been reinstated.

"The 350,000 decent anti-Communist Americans in B'nai Brith," he said, "will not tolerate the destruction of democracy or the violation of civil rights in this country. We made a thorough investigation of the Fort Monmouth situation before we reached our conclusions. The single, most important problem for America today is the preservation of our civil liberties. As Americans we want to take our part in that fight."

"Minorities in this country and our civil liberties can be destroyed only by false rumor and wicked hearsay. There are men today who are substituting accusation for evidence. This is an illness—not just the work of one man—which starts in the gutter and goes to the very top."

Accusations on Film

Forster said that Mrs. Henry D. Strack and William H. Smullen had both made "false accusations that the Anti-Defamation League had distributed a Communist" film. He said that "when the good people of New Jersey were apprised of the real facts they showed their good sense and innate decency by rejecting the absurd accusations."

Mrs. Strack, of Locust, was the speaker at a recent DAR meeting in Trenton. Smullen, of East Orange, is the president of the Anti-Communist League of New Jersey. The film involved was "The High Wall."

The speaker is the author of several books on anti-democratic agitators in America, including "The Measure of Freedom," and "Troublemakers."

Other speakers included John J. Untermann, toastmaster, Ben Unterman, president of the lodge, and Aaron Sobel, dinner chairman.

Books:'Measure of Freedom,' Report
On Anti-Semitism in America

By Art Shields

Hate-the-Jews propaganda is financed here by the same kind of war profiteers, who paid the bills for Hitler's merchants of hate.

A MEASURE OF FREEDOM,
an Anti-Defamation League
Report by Arnold Forster.
$2.50. Doubleday, New York.

The duPonts on the Delaware are emulating the Farben magnates on the Rhine. And Little Steel kings are following the example of the owners of the United Steel Works of Germany in supporting the fascist mercenaries, who seek to divide the people on racial and religious lines.

The duPonts began expressing their anti-Semitism in dollars at about the time that Hitler became head of the German state. The U.S. Senate Lobby Committee reported that the chemical trust family was subsidizing many hate groups in the early 1930s. And Arnold Forster's A Measure of Freedom finds that Irene and Lamont duPont (who also helped pay Karl E. Mundt's campaign bills), gave more than $90,000 to Merwin K. Hart, professional disseminator of anti-Semitic and anti-democracy poison, in the last several years.

Hate merchant Hart took in $140,000 last year—a 15 percent rise. His contributors' list reads like a "Who's Who in industry," reports Forster. His backers include American Car and Foundry Co., Sears Roebuck, Union Gas and Carbon (an atom bomb profiteer), Remington Rand, American Rolling Mill, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad, and such Wall Street figures as J. Howard Pew, Sun Oil king, and George Montgomery, law partner of Rep. Frederic R. Coudert.

"One wonders how much stockholders know about the use of their money?" asks Forster.

THE duPONTs have drunk deep of the cup of hate their mercenary Hart passes out. The following letter from 74-year-old

Irene duPont to Hart speaks for itself:

"A few weeks ago," wrote duPont last year, "I received from you a good, fighting letter, pointing out what the basic underlying trouble is in Washington—an alliance of 'pinks' with some undesirable Jewish people, who seem to have seized control of the government. I should like to have you send me 20 copies of this letter."

DuPont money is channeled to several other hate groups by Hart, who serves as a fascist coordinator. Upton Close, for instance, got $30,000 from Hart for baiting Communists and minority groups over the radio from February, 1946, to February, 1947. He is working with Hart again. Close's income topped $50,000 last year.

Allen Zoll, another hate merchant, netted $40,000 last year. He was under contract with Hart in 1948 and is reported to be leagued with him again. Rep. (now Senator) Karl E. Mundt of the advisory board of his National Council for American Education two years ago.

Joe Kamp, professional anti-Semite, red-baiter and union-buster, dines with Hart and the duPonts on occasion.

Kamp is also backed by Frank E. Lee of Lee Hats, and by president Charles M. White of Republic Steel, who distributes his pamphlets by the thousands.

THE DATA on fascist financing is the best part of A Measure of Freedom, although Forster himself fails to link anti-Semitism and the drive for fascism together. The Anti-Defamation League, which gathered the data, seems afraid to point out the political objectives of the hate-mongers. And Forster complacently refers to the prejudices, that he studies, as mere "blemishes which disfigure an otherwise healthy body politic."

A "body politic" in the grip of fascist-minded monopolists cannot be regarded as "healthy."

Forster is weakest in dealing with the aspects of fascist prejudice that affect the masses most directly. He gives less space, for instance, to the exclusion of Jews and Negroes from many factories and offices than he devotes to anti-Semitism in yachting.

He takes too comfortable an attitude towards the terrorist Ku Klux Klan, which he alleges is "shriveling" up.

He gives little attention to the jmcrowding of millions of Negro children in public schools, while doing an excellently documented job on discrimination against Jews and Negroes in higher educational institutions.

He takes too comfortable an attitude towards the Ku Klux Klan, which he alleges is "shriveling" up. And he briefly passes off the underlying white supremacy movement in the South as something deplorable but "traditional."

He does a real service in listing 57 hate organizations, 49 hate periodicals and 47 hate books and pamphlets in the field in 1949. But he ignores the major hate role of such anti-Semitic organizations as the Catholic War Veterans. And he leaves out such journals as The Tablet, official organ of the Roman Catholic diocese of Brooklyn. The Tablet has followed the anti-Jewish line of Father Coughlin too often to be omitted.

One can cheer the much valuable data between these two covers, however. And anti-fascists can also OK his findings (a result of poll-taking) that young people, poor people and Negroes, are least affected by the anti-Semitic virus.

I. PURPOSE:

The Walter Winchell column "In New York" published in the New York Mirror, January 31, 1950, stated that "A Measure of Freedom" a new book by Arnold Forster would soon be published by Doubleday and would be on the bookstands the last week in March. Winchell said: "Get ready for another 'Under Cover' best seller." The Director commented: "What do we know of the author Arnold Forster?"

II. BIOGRAPHICAL DATA:

Arnold Forster was born Arnold Fastenberg on June 25, 1912, at New York City, the son of Hyman Fastenberg, father, and Dorothy Turits Fastenberg, mother. Both parents were born in the United States. He attended Bronx elementary schools and was graduated from Dewitt Clinton High School in New York City in 1930. Thereafter followed training at the College of the City of New York and at Saint John's University, New York City, from which institution he was graduated with a Bachelor of Laws degree in 1935. During college days he was employed as lifeguard, actor and concessions clerk and after graduation from law school as a law clerk for three New York City firms. He was admitted to the Bar in New York City on December 15, 1936, and in 1937 was a member of the New York County Lawyers' Association, the Parity Club, Inc., and in 1939 was a member of the Junior Guild, Inc., in New York City. He has variously resided at 66 Fort Washington Avenue, New York City and 1881 Morris Avenue, New York City. In September, 1937, he opened his own law office at 270 Broadway, New York City. He is believed to be married.

Between July 2, 1937 and August 23, 1939, by order of the City Court of the City of New York, the name "Arnold Fastenberg" was changed to Arnold Forster.

Arnold Forster is currently National Director of the Civil Rights Division of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, 212 Fifth Avenue, New York 10, New York.

Memo to Mr. Nichols from Mr. Jones
 Re: Arnold Forster, aka
 Arnold Fastenberg

February 3, 1950

He is believed to have become connected with the Anti-Defamation League (hereafter referred to as ADL) in about 1940 when he was employed as an "undercover" agent for this group. He thereafter was promoted through the ranks to head its Legal Division and its Fact-finding Division.

II. BUREAU CONTACT WITH FORSTER:

By application dated July 2, 1937, and September 6, 1939, Forster applied for a position as Special Agent in this Bureau. Each time the recommendation was unfavorable, once by Special Agent T. J. Donegan and Special Agent George A. Stevens, both of the New York Office. The principal reason for the unfavorable recommendation was that he dressed poorly, did not appear resourceful, would probably not develop, and was not mentally alert.

The Bureau's last communication with Forster was on December 26, 1939, at which time he was advised he failed to attain a satisfactory rating in the re-examination "afforded you on October 18, 1939." It was stated his application could not receive further consideration. (67-74154)

Forster has on several occasions visited the Bureau in connection with ADL matters and has generally been in the company of Maurice Bisgyer, Executive Director of B'nai B'rith; Richard Gunstadt, Director of ADL and Rabbi Paul Richman, then Washington representative of ADL. In most instances, he either talked with Mr. McGuire or Assistant Director Nichols. His most recent contact with a Bureau representative seems to have been in 1946.

Bureau files reflect that beginning in about 1941 Forster supplied the New York Office by personal visit and by telephone call with a great deal of information concerning Bureau cases involving the Registration Act matters, sedition, and the general run of Internal Security-G cases.

Paul Richman talked with Assistant Director Nichols on May 11, 1943, stating that Forster attempted to enlist in the Coast Guard but was refused. Forster, said ~~Richman~~, believed he had been discriminated against by reason of the fact he is Jewish.
 PAUL

Mr. Nichols in his memorandum pointed out that Forster had frequently been referred to by Frank Prince and has sent material to Prince at various times. Prince, of course, attempted at various times to have the Director removed and at that time was no friend of the Bureau. (67-74154-13)

III. THE ALEKSY PELYPENKO MATTER:

On January 21, 1946, the Boston Office advised that an informant of that Office, during an interview with Albert Eugene Kahn, learned that George Seldes, editor of "In Fact," Michael G. Sayers and Frederick Reylar had obtained documentary evidence to the effect that Father Charles E. Coughlin had been a paid German agent.

This information was to be broadcast by Walter Winchell and Pearson in mid February, 1946. It was also said that Kahn and others planned to use this information as a basis for a "smear campaign" against the Director and the FBI.

It was known by this Bureau that the "documentary evidence" consisted of an affidavit executed September 29, 1942, by Aleksy Pelypenko, a former paid informant of the Bureau in 1941. Pelypenko was known to be unreliable but he had executed the statement in the presence of Arnold Forster who in turn paid him $300 for its execution.

Forster first entered into the Pelypenko affair when on October 7, 1942, he and his employers came to the Bureau and presented a carbon copy of this sworn statement, stating that the original was retained by ADL. The statement was more detailed than information Pelypenko had given the Bureau.

Attempts were made by the Bureau through Forster on October 26, 1942, until February 24, 1943, to secure the original and all copies of this affidavit. On February 24, 1943, Forster made available to the Bureau what he contended was the last remaining copy. It is known he did not deal fairly with the Bureau because Kahn also possessed a copy of the affidavit or so it is believed. It was finally learned that O. John Rogge, then Special Assistant to the Attorney General, had a copy in the

 Re: Arnold Forster, aka
 Arnold Fastenberg

February 3, 1950

Department of Justice which he had received directly or indirectly from Forster. Mr. Ladd concluded that the "ADL lied in its dealings with the Bureau." (65-56402-424; 100-74021-70X and 100-16018-147)

The smear campaign referred to above did materialize to some extent when in the February 11, 1946, issue of "In Fact" an article captioned "The Coughlin Document" by Albert E. Kahn appeared. The document was said to have been suppressed by the Justice Department. Kahn stated with reference to how he obtained the document only that "there has come into my hands an affidavit...." He said also that "I am reliably informed" the same affidavit was in the possession of the Justice Department. The FBI was not named except indirectly.

Winchell did mention the "document" on his February 24, 1946, broadcast but said nothing about the FBI. (100-74021-71)

Winchell had also given much endorsement to "Sabotage" and promised to publicize "The Great Conspiracy." Kahn claimed a close association with Winchell but on February 7, 1946, he advised an informant Winchell had "cooled off" and could not be reached. (100-74021-83)

It is believed that Kahn was instrumental in making the document available to George Selde for printing in "In Fact." (100-74021-75)

It should be observed, however, in fairness to Forster who stated he had given the Bureau all copies of this document (which he obviously had not done) that when requested to supply the Bureau with it and all copies he said he learned Pelypenko had attempted to sell it to "PM" newspaper where he left it one hour. It might have been photostated during that time and later made available to Kahn by "PM" rather than Forster. (100-16018-177)

IV. RUMOR THAT ADL INVESTIGATES FOR THE FBI:

On November 25, 1942, Assistant Director Nichols conferred with Messrs. Bisgyer, Gunstadt and Richman, referred to above. Mr. Nichols pointed out that the Bureau received information that

Memo to Mr. Nichols from Mr. Jones
 Re: Arnold Forster, aka
 Arnold Fastenberg

February 3, 1950

ADL had "reported having made 370 investigations for the Bureau." No determination was ever made as to how this rumor started although the statement was first made by Jacob Spolansky, former FBI Agent and then connected with the American-Jewish Committee, an enemy of the ADL. During the conference referred to, it was said that an informant of known reliability reported that John Metcalfe and Frank J. Prince, both directly or indirectly associated with ADL, discussed on December 12, 1942, the fact that "Forster possessed a list of approximately 240 'incidents' in which inquiries had been made by the Washington agency (possibly referring to the FBI)...." (100-14607-89 and 100-530-78)

V. THE PRESS CARD AFFAIR:

"Robert M." is a former Bureau paid informant on German matters whose services were discontinued March 21, 1943, when it was determined that he was not only working for the Bureau but was also furnishing information to British Intelligence and other sources. (61-7566)

Robert M. advised on November 11, 1941, that at an American First Committee rally in Madison Square Garden, October 31, 1941, at which Wheeler and Lindberg spoke, commotion took place. The trouble occurred when a photographer and Arnold Forster behaved in a provocative manner toward American First sympathizers. Robert M. had previously met Forster when the latter, while attending the Fritz Kuhn trial in November, 1939, had told Robert M. he was an undercover man for ADL while practicing law at 270 Broadway.

The New York City police on the above occasion questioned Forster and the photographer about the commotion. Forster became abusive with Detective Stanley Quasdo and admitted he had given a New York Post "desk spare" police reporter's card to the photographer, one Michael Daniel Caputo. This card, used illegally by Caputo, was made out in the name of Gary Finle, then City Editor of the Post. Forster did not say how he obtained the card which was confiscated by the police and given eventually to the chairman of the Mayor's (NYC) Committee on Press Cards.

The informant said he learned from Irving Rothberg, alias Richard Rollins, that Forster was a cousin of Rothberg and was an

Memo to Mr. Nichols from Mr. Jones
Re: Arnold Forster, aka
Arnold Fastenberg

February 3, 1950

undercover liaison man to "The Hour," for the ADL which "did not want to be openly connected with a propaganda organ which was Communist run."

Robert M. said that Winchell's column on November 3, 1941, stated: "That's going to be quite a shake-up in the Alien Squad of the Police Department after the election...because so many are not so Americanishy...." Robert M. said he learned definitely the item was planted by Rothberg and Forster. Rothberg had been in trouble before with the Alien Squad and had been questioned by the same detective who questioned and detained Forster. Rose Bigman, Winchell's secretary, said Robert M. admitted to him that the above item had originated in the ADL. On October 31, 1941, the ADL, said Robert M., "brought tremendous pressure to bear on Commissioner Seery and the Mayor's Committee on Press Cards to drop the Forster incident of the preceeding night."

Robert M. was called by Rothberg and asked to "get Forster out of this jam." This Robert M. refused to do he said.

It was then learned by the New York Police Department that Hyman Goldberg, Post reporter, obtained the card for Forster by stealing it from a Post city desk drawer. Goldberg, said the informant, is described in the New York City Police files as a Communist and as married to the daughter of an official of Amtorg.

It is not known what action if any was taken against Forster for the unauthorized use of this press card. (61-7566-3191)

VI. MISCELLANEOUS:

The surname Fastenberg, according to a confidential informant of the Chicago Office, appears on a list of suspected Communist Party members in the New York area. It is quite probable that this Fastenberg is the surname of a woman secretary to an official of the Amtorg Trading Corporation. (61-5381-663X2, 1221 page 109 and Fish Committee Reports (144 page 107))

Arnold Forster, according to a special report of MID, the War Department, is a personal acquaintance of one Bernard ~~Fliegel~~, Fliegel,

Memo to Mr. Nichols from Mr. Jones
Re: Arnold Forster, aka
Arnold Fastenberg

February 3, 1950

former outstanding basketball player of the 1937 - 1938 basketball season of the greater New York area. The report says investigation determined that Fliegel is a Communist. Basis for MID's conclusion concerning the Forster - Fliegel relationship is a letter Forster wrote in a personal and friendly vein to "Bernie" (Fliegel) postmarked November 20, 1943. Fliegel is known to have written a letter to the Daily Worker which was reprinted in the November 21, 1942, issue of that paper. The Daily Worker commented: "We agree with the letter in full." (100-222386-6; 100-261703)

By letter dated February 17, 1942, Forster advised an Agent of the New York office that "Doc Rieper," one time member of the Christian Mobilizers and a close friend of Joe McWilliams, had been spending time with some gangsters "who intend to kill Walter Winchell." Forster stated that "for the sake of thoroughness, I advise you of his recent malevolence." This information was also furnished to the New York City Police. (100-79198)

In September, 1946, Arnold Forster was listed as director of "The Facts," a monthly publication of the ADL. Its contents, prepared by ADL's Fact-finding Department of which Forster was then head, related to anti-Semitic "matters, hate and religion," etc. (94-37102-2)

A reliable informant of the Intelligence Division, Second Service Command, New York, advised on July 26, 1942, that Marshall Field depends on the ADL and Arnold Forster and actually has confidence in them. (100-12472-13)

A publication known as "Anti-Semitism in the United States in 1947" was apparently widely circulated after its preparation by Arnold Forster and the staff of the Civil Rights Division of the ADL.

It will be observed that the Winchell Column of January 31, 1950, mentions that exposes in "A Measure of Freedom" will be made of Joseph P. Kamp, Merwin K. Hart and others.

In connection with the investigation entitled "Constitutional Educational League, Inc., Joseph Peter Kamp, et al; Internal Security (G); Registration Act," Arnold Forster and others connected with the ADL several times supplied information to the Bureau on Kamp, his secretary Regina Cannon and others. At this time Forster was Chief Investigator of the ADL and had, according to the file, gathered considerable information on Kamp and his activities.

Memos to the Editor

Get ready for another "Under Cover" best-seller. The title: "A Measure of Freedom." The author: Arnold Forster... It has 9 pages of documented dynamite on Gerald L. K. Smith... Eleven pages of ditto on Joseph P. Kamp, who was given a jail term after being cited by Congress (more than a year ago) but nuttin' happen!... Who's his gold-braid pal in the White House? The one with whom he swaps letters? (of course!)... This new book has 8 pages of documented atomic energy on Upton Close. It has 20 pages of hydrogen bombs exposing Merwin K. Hart, and nearly 100 additional pages on 20 other targets of this column. "A Measure of Freedom" will be in the book stores last week in March. Doubleday is publisher... I will mention it loud every Sunday at 9.

There is something new coming up in April called Dianetics. A new science which works with the invariability of physical science in the field of the human mind. From all indications it will prove to be as revolutionary for humanity as the first caveman's discovery and utilization of fire.

Remember all the denials by Keats Speed (and the N. Y. Sun execs) when it was first reported (here) that the Sun was to be peddled? Well, Editor & Publisher's leading essay headlines the sale: "Deal Early in '49; Secret Guarded"... The story adds: "It is a fact—now it can be told—that the World-Telegram's purchase of the Sun was ready for closing early in Dec." And Sun staffer I. Kolodin's piece on the eclipse (in The Sat. Review of Literature) reports "sale rumors were always attributed to the malice of Winchell"... Sun exec E. S. Friendly, the rumors say, will join the Times.

Good story for our Albany correspondent, if got: Does Gov. Dewey know you can place a bet in almost any cigar store, luncheonette or corner candy shop in Albany as openly as you can buy a pack of cigs? Pads are openly displayed for bettors' convenience, according to Upstate readers.

From the Washington Times-Herald (By G. Dillard Gunn): "The audience rose and applauded when the Presidential party entered, but conductor Mitchell omitted the National Anthem to the relief of everyone including Mr. Truman, who must be getting tired of it."

We doubt that the President is tired of it. But if that music critic is—there are Other Places He Can Jolly Well Go... We can recall ten years ago when the Washington Times-Herald acted as though it not only hated The Star Spangled Banner—but had never heard it played.

Life's editorialist declares the Alsop freres rate a Pulitzer Prize, which we second happily. For their colyuming and the portion of an Alsop pillar the mag quotes, wherein they warn about "the ghost of a future war now haunting the world"... When Your N. Y. Correspondent warned about the same thing most Washington writers poo-poo'd the "irresponsible reporting," and Life was among the many which called us an alarmist. Hmmm.

Very interesting item in the mail this morning: "The high profit boys are actually legalized counterfeiters of the currency. They make our dollar practically valueless and the irony of it—is that they are depreciating their own money!"... I said (on the air) Mayor O'Dwyer's intimates hear he probably will resign about Sept. 1st. I saw him the other day and was amazed at his appearance. No wrinkles, no lines, no flabbiness whatever. Terrific tan and a glint in his orbs. Very happy bridegroom. Why he wants to be Mayor of New York and die too soon is something I can't riddle.

Many anonymous letters are arriving at Communist H'quarters in N. Y. "exposing" perfectly good Party Members as FBI plants. And the Red Bigwigs are so jittery over the G-Men's terrific work in infiltrating the Red apparatus (remember H. Philbrick of Mass., and Angela Colomiris in the trial of the Eleven?) they're taking these spoofs seriously and kicking out the suspected right and left.

Life insurance investigators now try to find out whether applicants for policies are commolas. Their explanation: The insurance firms claim Communists have shorter life expectancies than non-Coms. The firms say attendance at Communist meetings and marching in picket lines "are risks to life and limb."
